

VFW, LAX Community Service, Legislative Conference Wrap Up

Mar 10, 2008

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The annual VFW and Ladies Auxiliary Community and Legislative Conference was held March 1-4 in Washington, D.C.

Guest speakers for the joint opening included VA Secretary James Peake, Army Surgeon General Eric Schoomaker and Deputy Defense Secretary Gordon England. In addition, Rep. Chet Edwards (D-TX) was presented the VFW Congressional Award in recognition of his support to veterans and military personnel and families, and the VFW News Media Award was presented to CBS News correspondent Bob Schieffer for his journalistic integrity and highest of standards.

In a special presentation, R.J. Reynolds, represented by David Howard, presented a $600,000 check to VFW Operation Uplink.

During Tuesday evening's award banquet, Andrea Wood, manager of Target Corporation's military grants and partnerships, recognized VFW and Auxiliary members for their community service. Target is a major contributor to the VFW Voice of Democracy scholarship program, which annually distributes nearly $2.5 million in scholarships and incentives to high school students nationwide.

Other awards include:

National Voice of Democracy Winner and the recipient of a $30,000 scholarship

Jordon Blake Lord of Gulfport, Miss., sponsored by VFW Post 4526 and its Ladies Auxiliary

National Patriot's Pen Winner and the recipient of a $10,000 savings bond
