Celebrate Our Veterans this Veterans Day

Nov 08, 2012

On Veterans Day we honor every man and woman who has proudly worn the uniform of the United States military. We celebrate all those who have bravely defended our nation from the forces of evil and tyranny, and helped free countries around the world from the grips of despair.

This Veterans Day weekend, patriotic Americans will gather to remember the countless sacrifices our veterans have made. As we honor them, we should also reflect on the price paid for our victories, as well as the many liberties we enjoy today because of the selflessness of our nation's heroes.

Our veterans cherish the values and virtues upon which our nation was founded, and generations have bravely answered the call to preserve them. We owe them so much, and we must not forget the thousands who are deployed all over the world defending our freedoms at this very moment. We pray for their safe return, and the VFW stands ready to support their families while they are away.

Over the course of America's history, it has been those who have worn the uniform, those who have tenaciously defended our way of life, who we will be forever grateful to: America's proud Marines, Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Coastguardsmen. Every American, both stateside and abroad, reaps the benefits of their service.

Today and every day, we thank you for your service.
