

VFW Now Accepting Donations for Veteran and Military Sandy Victims

Here's your chance to help

Nov 01, 2012

The damage the eastern seaboard sustained by Hurricane Sandy is still being evaluated. While we don't yet know the full extent of the damages, we know that there will be a need for financial assistance among our members, veterans and military families impacted by this devastating event. We are asking all patriotic Americans who are able, including our VFW Departments, Districts and Posts, to donate to the VFW's Sandy Fund. Any money received will be used for this purpose and should there be a surplus, it will be held in reserve for future disasters as was done with the VFW's Katrina Fund.
