May 13, 2013

This July, thousands of VFW members from across the world will attend the annual convention to get the latest information from National Headquarters, participate in workshops and celebrate a great year after putting in so much dedicated work!

Everything kicks off July 20 with the Health Fair and open Exhibit Hall where attendees can get free health advice and assessments and familiarize themselves with the VFW's many great partners. The Business Session begins July 22 and features several high-profile guests and speakers. Convention goers also have the opportunity to attend various workshops hosted by leaders from National Headquarters, with topics ranging from VFW's National Military Services programs to Membership initiatives and many more.

Everything concludes with VFW delegates electing a new Commander-in-Chief and National Council of Administration and voting on proposed National By-Laws and Resolutions.
