"I feel I don't deserve it, but I will accept the honor on behalf of all veterans," Downing said of the honor.

Downing is the second-oldest known Pearl Harbor survivor. He fought in and survived the Pearl Harbor attack on Dec. 7, 1941, while stationed on the battleship USS West Virginia as an enlisted sailor. After the attack, he continued to service and eventually became a gunnery officer on the USS San Carlos and USS Nespelen. Downing was also the commanding officer of the USS Patapsco during the Korea War.

Downing is currently on a book tour for his third book, "The Other Side of Infamy." He spoke with VFW staff members and guests on Tuesday about his experience in the Navy during WWII and the Korean War, as well as his upbringing in Plevna, Mo. He currently resides in Colorado Springs, Colo.
